United States	Fuel Price Survey	National Average	Every Monday, US Energy Information Administration (EIA) collects information on retail prices for regular, midgrade, and premium grades of gasoline as well as on-highway diesel fuel from a sample of retail fuel outlets across the United States using Form EIA-878, Motor Gasoline Price Survey Schedule A and Form EIA-888, On-Highway Diesel Fuel Price Survey Schedule A. "The weekly survey is designed to collect data on the cash price offered at the pump (including taxes) to consumers for each grade of gasoline. The data collected represent the price as of 8:00 a.m. local time on Monday, for the self-serve price except in areas having only full-serve, and the cash price except for outlets accepting only credit cards. The prices are collected via telephone, email, text, fax, or the internet from a sample of outlets. All collected prices are subjected to automated error checks during data collection and data processing. Data flagged for potential errors are verified with the respondents. Imputation (a statistical replacement process) is used to estimate prices for outlets that cannot be reached during the data collection or validation." (for details see: https://www.eia.gov/petroleum/gasdiesel/gas_proc-methods.php) "The sample includes a combination of truck stops and service stations that sell retail on-highway diesel fuel. We designed the weekly survey to collect data on the cash self-serve price offered at the pump (including taxes) to consumers for on-highway diesel fuel as of 8:00 a.m. local time on Monday. The data represent the price of ultra-low sulfur diesel (ULSD), which contains less than 15 parts-per-million sulfur."
